Park Habitats

From montane grasslands at Castle Falls, to high alpine tarns of Barnaby Ridge, and from rare wetlands along the West Castle River to diverse forest cover and old burns, the ecology of Castle Provincial Park provides habitat for a wonderful array of bird species. The floral and faunal biodiversity of this landscape is recognized as being the most diverse in Alberta, if not Canada because of abundant and variety of habitat, and also this unique location where so many species are at the very edge of their range.

A pair of binoculars, a sharp ear, and this checklist are all you will need to begin exploring the avian marvels of Castle Provincial Park!
